

Spring is Almost Here

And so is Stream Monitoring Time!

Please Join Us

You are invited to attend the 2010 Adams County Citizen Based Volunteer Stream Monitoring Program training session on Tuesday, April 13 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. We will meet at the Adams County Community Center, 569 North Cedar Street, Adams. Lunch will be provided. We are looking forward to seeing our returning volunteers, and meeting new volunteers.

~~ Agenda ~~

Classroom Training

Stream Ecology & Expected Data Values
Dissolved Oxygen Meter pH Meter
Transparency Tube
Thermistor
Macroinvertebrates
Review Monitoring Sites & Assignments

Field Training

Dissolved Oxygen Meter Practice
pH Meter Practice
Transparency Tube Practice
Thermistor Placement
Additional Information Data Sheets
Macroinvertebrates

*If you volunteered last year, don't wait to start sampling.
We would love to get spring runoff data!*

To register, call or email

Pat Johnson, Conservation Clerk

Adams County Land and Water Conservation Department

P.O. Box 287, Friendship, WI 53934; 608-339-4268

pat.johnson@co.adams.wi.us